FOUND DEAD IN HER BED FRIDAY MORNING.

Supposed to Have Been Choked to Death by Some one who Entered the Place With the Intent of Robbery.

Friday morning at about nine o'clock Mrs. Eliza Lawson was found dead in her bed by T. E. Edwards and Jos. Phillips. It was her custom to get up about seven o, clock every morning and Friday morning on being called by A. Adlemann, who works for her, no response was given. He did not think anything of it as she was in the habit sometimes of not answering. At about nine o'clock Mr. T. E. Edwards called to see her on some business and he in company with Mr. Phillps, knocked on the door; receiving no response, the door was forced in and she was found dead in bed. The Coroner was notified who took charge of the body, summoned a jury and a post mortem examination was held by Drs. Campbell and Bjornson. There was nothing to show that death resulted from natural causes, everything being in a normal condition. There was a slight discoloration on the neck and blood had oozed from her ears. There were prints of ones finger nails in the neck that were very distinct, showing that some one had evidently choked her to death. It is supposed that some one had entered the place with the evident intention of robbery and awakening her had caught her by the throat to silence her outery and during her struggles to free herself she was choked to death. No clew so far has been reached that would tend to fix the murder on any-

Mrs. Eliza Lawson was well-known here and in fact all over the coast. She was born in Louisiania about the year 1820, and in 1849 came to California with Mr. Lawson At his death she fell heir to his property situated in San Francisco, one piece of which is next to the old Chronicle building, and which was here at the time of her death. She was in Virginia City in early days where she acquired some property and drifted here in '71, where she has since resided. She had one boy who died in Stockton some years ago. She was well off, being estimated to be worth in the neighborhood of $100,000. She has no known relatives, but it is supposed that she has a will which is in some one's keeping in San Francisco, California.

The funeral took place on Saturday and was largely attended.

The Coroner's jury was composed of T. E. Edwards, R. Husbands, C. O. Newell, J. A. Denton, George Nesbitt and John Murphy. They could not all come to the same conclusion so made two reports as
